To Whom it may Concern,

It gives me great pleasure to provide a reference for Keith Marlow as he was and still is an integral part of my website business www.buildbits.com.au.

Keith is a talented and highly experienced web site developer and has helped me greatly with the design and implementation of the back end of the website from the startup to the current position.

The website went live in October 2012 and we are continually tweaking and adjusting to maximize the site as it grows and Keith is a sound support and has great ideas and talents in making our ideas become reality.

I look forward to Keith being part of the team for future growth of buildBITS as we aim to take the site overseas in the near future.

Please feel free to contact me if you would like to discuss further

Regards
